HELMET CERTIFICATION STICKERS

There is some confusion lately surrounding the life of helmets as some have the HECC (date of expiry) sticker on them.

HECC is the U.S. certification and does not apply in Canada. HECC adopts the ASTM standard which has to be reviewed every five (5) years. The HECC sticker (and date of expiry) was related to ASTM five (5) year cycle for its standards. It was not related to the useful life of the helmet.

CSA is the Canadian standard which has no expiry attached to it. The CSA sticker must be attached to the helmet.

Any modifications to the helmet, makes them non-CSA compliant.
